Southern Heritage, a Queen Anne Victorian, built in 1880 sits in the heart of Virginia's Lake Country in the historic town of Boynton. It features a wrap-around porch with cupola and plenty of gingerbread. The rooms are large, airy and tastefully decorated with attention to the heritage of the old south. In the evenings guests at Southern Heritage Bed & Breakfast can relax on the porch and chat with other guests or read in one of the many private nooks. If you choose to walk on our grounds you can enjoy our shady seating area, our rock garden, or our rare Osage Orange Tree (the tree which inspired the invention of barbed-wire). As you explore the grounds be sure to notice the variety of plants including the roses, azaleas, crepe myrtles, camellias, hydrangea and rose of Sharon. From June to August our fireflies will entertain you with a nightly light show.
